Brown on third and Lattimore on first pulled a similar stunt to the Cochran-Tydeman affair.

The Second Game.

It took three extra innings in the second game to produce a decision. In the opening inning the Drummers took a two-run lead. However, the Topekans tied the count in the fourth and stepped one to the front in the eighth.

Errors by Hostick and Cochran gave the Hollanders all their scores. Watson reached first on Bostick's bobble and then scored on Bliss's single. The Wichita 3-0: Des Moines 2-9.

reached first on Bostick's bobble and then scored on Bliss's single. The first two Drummer runs were permitted by Cochran's error when he let a throw to third slip through his fingers.

In the twelfth inning the Savages salted the game away. A triple by Brown, a double by Lattimore and a single by Jackson counted two runs of the second countest, which was won by the locals, was called in the fifth to allow Wichita to catch a train.

It is now appropriate to speak of him as Dashner, the Iron Animal.

Two shut-outs in two days is a rec ord of which few pitchers can boast. In addition to this, however, Dashner has pitched a 1-hit and a 2-hit game within the last month.

Roy Sanders left the Savages at St. Joe and will not rejoin them until they come home, if then.

George Cochran started the scoring in the first game at St. Joe Friday by stealing home in the first inning. Cochran has been playing steadier ball during the past few days and also has been hitting more consistently.

Even though she has a subsoil team, Wichita claims to have drawn better crowds than any other city in the Western league this season and Pa Rourke's statement that no club would draw better than 60,000 people has been challenged by the Peerless Princess. Also, the home of the Wolves boasts the fact that she has paid every club in the circuit more money than she has received and that she has paid Topeka almost twice as

It is always one trouble after an other with some men. Dale Gear quit baseball and thought he had served his time.
